

WOMEN

Needing renewed strength, or who suffer from nervous prostration, or who are tired, should try

This medicine combines iron with pure vegetable tonics, and is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and all who lead sedentary lives. It enriches and purifies the Blood, stimulates the Appetite, strengthens the Muscles and Nerves—in fact, thoroughly invigorates. Clears the complexion, and makes the skin smooth. It does not blacken the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—all other Iron medicines do. Mrs. F. B. BAKER, 74 Pearl St., New York, N. Y., writes, under date of Dec. 26th, 1884: "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters, and it has been more than a doctor to me, having cured me of the weakness I have in life. Also cured me of Liver Complaint, and now my complexion is clear and good. Has also been beneficial to my children." Mrs. L. M. C. BRADON, East Lockport, N. Y., writes: "I have suffered untold misery from Female Complaint, and could obtain relief from nothing except Brown's Iron Bitters." Genuine has above Trade Mark and crossed red line on wrapper. Take no other. Made only by BROWN & COMPANY, BALTIMORE, MD.

TWO RAILROAD WRECKS.

ONE ON THE B. & O. AND THE OTHER ON THE CONCORD RAILROAD.

A St. Louis Express Train Leaves the Track Near Aurora, Indiana, Killing Two Men and Injuring a Number of Others. Fear Killed in the Concord Wreck.

AURORA, Ind., Aug. 1.—A terrible wreck happened five miles west of here, between Dillsboro and Cochran, last evening, on the Ohio & Mississippi. The St. Louis express, due in Cincinnati at 6:30, was troubled with a hot box shortly after leaving St. Louis. At Vincennes the box was cooled off and the train began to make up time. As it sped along over the twenty-five-foot embankment approaching bridge No. 11, the axle of the engine broke and the crash came.

The train consisted of a baggage, mail, five passenger and the private car of President Barnard, of the road. The coaches were filled with passengers, many of them being women and children. The mail car was smashed to splinters; the first coach was hurled down the embankment and broken and only the private car remained on the track. As soon as possible the men who were uninjured got to work to rescue those who were pinned under the shattered timbers. R. C. Baker, of Salem, Ill., mail agent, was first taken out. He was instantly killed, being buried under the debris.

Charles Wicherling, of Clark and Kossuth streets, Cincinnati, who was walking along the track at the time of the accident, was struck in the back by a car and killed. Mail Agent Peter Grimes was buried under a car and badly injured. It required nearly an hour to dig him out. Y. C. Yelton, of Cincinnati, another mail agent, was badly out about the head. Thomas Duncan, a tramp, from Livingston, Ky., who was stealing a ride sustained fatal injuries. S. S. Green, of Madison, Ind., was injured about the head and shoulders. L. E. Brown had his shoulder and arm broken. R. McLean, of Hillsboro, Ky., was hurt in the side and back.

J. B. Emmal, a traveling salesman for the Pettibone Manufacturing company, of Cincinnati, was thrown out of a car and lit head first in the soft ground. In all there were twenty-two injured. Farmers living near the wreck turned out en masse, and left nothing undone for the care of the wounded. The worst feature of the affair was that pickpockets worked the crowd during the excitement, and even robbed the wounded. They got between $400 and $500.

One on the Concord Railroad.

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 1.—A frightful accident occurred on the Hooksett branch of the Concord railroad, this morning. The up accommodation passenger train reported nine minutes late and comes via the Suncook branch. The mixed train from Pittsfield was on time and started south from Suncook for Hooksett to connect with the forenoon train. The Pittsfield train was on a siding a short distance from Hooksett, when the passenger train, by reason of a misplaced switch, ran upon the siding and crashed into the locomotive of the mixed train.

Both engines are badly wrecked, as are also the baggage and mail car of the passenger train and many of the freight cars. The engineers and firemen of both trains had time to jump and escaped unhurt. George French, express messenger, and Frank Barney, brakeman of the mixed train, were instantly killed. There are a number of injured. A relief train has been sent from this city with surgeons and a wrecking train has gone to clear the track.

A later report places the number of killed at four.

CINCINNATI CENTENNIAL.

The Million-Dollar Guarantee Fund Completed, Insuring Its Success.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 1.—The last meeting of the citizens' committee interested in securing the million-dollar guarantee fund to assure the centennial exposition next year was held at the Mechanics' Institute Friday afternoon. There was a good-sized attendance. Edwin Stevens presided, with Julius Baile, Jr., as secretary. The chairman called upon the secretary to read the amount already guaranteed. The secretary replied the amount had reached $953,510.

Mr. Stevens then asked for any additional subscriptions. He thought the fund ought to be completed without difficulty, as less than $50,000 was lacking.

Subscriptions continued to roll in until they had reached the total of $1,023,569. The announcement of the completion of the fund was received with uproarious applause.

Mr. Stevens made an enthusiastic speech, complimenting the citizens on their splendid work. He was proud of Cincinnati and her citizens. This city never had failed in an undertaking, and never would. Several other gentlemen made speeches, and the meeting was turned into a sort of love feast.

Mr. A. E. Burkhardt then offered the following resolution, which was enthusiastically adopted:

"WHEREAS, There has been an effort made by the press of other cities to create the impression that Cincinnati is falling into 'innocuous desuetude,' and cannot raise a million-dollar fund; and

"WHEREAS, Some of the guarantees now held by the commissioners may prove unavailable as securities, therefore, be it

"RESOLVED, That the committee be continued to raise a second guarantee fund of $100,000 by October 1, said fund to be used only to make up any deficiencies that may result from unavailable notes in the original fund which has been raised."

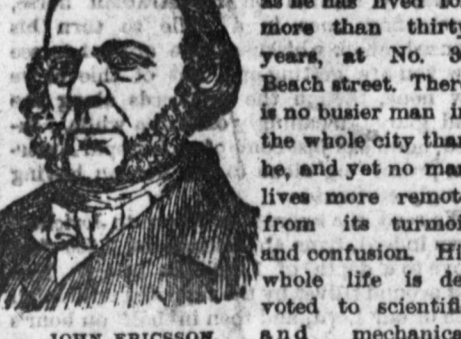

Found in a Well.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 1.—A special from Kingston says the dead bodies of a man and woman were found in an old well last night. The skull of the woman had been crushed and the breast of the man shows a bullet wound. The bodies are believed to be those of James M. Fields and America Stockwell, who disappeared in May last and whose husband and wife, William Stockwell and Susan A. Fields, have claimed that they had eloped. Stockwell and Mrs. Fields have lived together on Stockwell's farm ever since the disappearance of their respective consorts.

WELL SPENT LIFE.

Captain John Ericsson to Celebrate His Eighty-Fourth Birthday.

New York, Aug. 1.—To-morrow will be the eighty-fourth birthday of Capt. John Ericsson. He lives, as he has lived for more than thirty years, at No. 38 Beach street. There is no busier man in the whole city than he, and yet no man lives more remote from its turmoil and confusion. His whole life is devoted to scientific and mechanical studies. Social pleasures he has none. He has no visitors but those who have business with him. His time is divided according to rigid rules which make the most of the twenty-four hours in each day. He has shown himself able to devote himself to sedentary work for twelve hours a day for 365 days in the year, for thirty-seven years together, with scarcely the loss of a day.

This is because since he was forty years old Capt. Ericsson has followed the most exacting rules of temperance, in eating as well as in drinking. One day with him goes as another. He is called at twenty minutes before 7 a. m., summer and winter. On rising he rubs his skin thoroughly with dry towels, previous to a vigorous scouring with cold water, crushed ice being added to the water in summer. Gymnastic exercise follows before dressing. At 9 o'clock a frugal breakfast is taken consisting of eggs, tea and coarse bread. At 4:30 he dines, the dinner invariably consisting of chops or steaks, a few vegetables, brown tea again. Tobacco he never touches. The hours from dinner until 10 o'clock at night are usually devoted to work, and from 10 o'clock until midnight Capt. Ericsson seeks exercise in the open air. During working hours his time is divided between the drawing table and the writing desk. The day's labors conclude with a record of its occurrences in a diary which has one page devoted to each day, never more, never less. He has reduced life almost to an exact science.

RACING FOR GLORY.

Two Swift Cargo Ships, With the Glen-shiel the Favorite.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—After a race of nearly twenty thousand miles, two great ocean steamers are now rapidly approaching the home line, which is an East River pier in this harbor. Every year, when the people of the east have gathered their new crop of tea, at least two swift cargo ships are loaded with the fragrant leaves and sent hurrying westward through the Suez Canal and across the Atlantic to this port. The race is chiefly for glory, although the reputation of carrying the whip is worth something in cold cash. For three years the Glen Avon won the honor, and as a result she can get $4 a measured ton of tea for her first trip after the new crop comes in, while a slow or an unknown vessel could get but $2.19, or $3 at most.

This year the Glen-shiel was sent out in place of the Glen Avon by the Henderson Bros., and for a competitor she has the Monmouthshire, which is consigned to Carter, Hawley & Co. The Glen-shiel passed Gibraltar on July 19, and the other vessel was about twenty-four hours behind. In the race from Yokohama the Monmouthshire had gained about a day. The Glen-shiel may arrive to-day, but she is hardly due for two days yet. Everybody interested in tea and shipping down town was talking about the race yesterday. Pools were sold on the number of hours by which the Glen-shiel is expected to lead her competitor.

Chicago Bridge and Car Works Destroyed by Fire.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—At 2 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the Wells & French company bridge and car works, near the corner of Blue Island avenue and Wood street, and before the flames were extinguished a loss of $150,000 had been caused. The fire started in the saw mill of the works. Sixty men working in the blacksmith shop adjoining had a narrow escape, they making their exit from the building barely in time to save their lives.

So rapidly did the flames spread that within fifteen minutes from the time the blaze started the entire works, composed of two planing mills, machine shop, saw mill, bridge shop, store house and shaving mill, were on fire. The lumber yards in the immediate neighborhood were in some danger for a time, but the efforts of the firemen to confine the flames to the buildings in which they started were successful and a big conflagration prevented. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Smuggling Opium Over the Line.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 1.—Thursday it leaked out that 300 pounds of opium had been shipped by Tuesday morning's steamer in bond for Chicago. The bagmen here have been given customs bonding tags in order to facilitate the bonding of baggage through to American points, and by this means he was enabled to successfully arrange the opium for shipment to American cities. It is stated that four previous shipments have been made, but this trip the secret leaked out and came to the ears of the reporter, and an exposure was made. Two boxes were checked for Chicago, and a man named McLean held the checks. He was spotted, and two other men followed for the purpose of seizing the opium after crossing the line. However, the relieving officers discovered the fact and telegraphed to have the boxes retained at Winnipeg. An investigation will be had. The baggageman has been discharged and another appointed. It is supposed that a large amount got through by this means.

Railway Station Burned.

BOSTON, Aug. 1.—The Old Colony Railway station at Braintree was burned to the ground this morning. The fire started in the baggage room, and spread rapidly to the new brick tower recently erected by the railroad company. Both buildings were destroyed. Loss, $9,000; partly insured.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

A SECRET CIRCULAR SENT OUT TO ALL THE ORGANIZATIONS.

The Document is Aimed at the Powderly Administration—An Amendment Proposed to the Constitution—Who Will Pay the Pinkertons—Labor News.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A document of vital importance to the organization of the Knights of Labor, and signed by such leading men as G. E. McNeil, of Boston; J. Archibald, and John Morrison and William Foster, of Lowell, Mass., was received in Chicago to-day. The circular has been sent to all organizations connected with the Knights of Labor in the form of a secret circular.

The document says that owing to the wide departure from the fundamental principles upon which the Knights of Labor was founded, there has been a large decrease in the membership, and unless the general assembly at the next meeting at Minneapolis in October make some important changes there will be still further decrease.

The circular protests against the arbitrary methods by which the constitution has been altered, its fundamental principles nullified, expenses increased without authority from members, as provided by the constitution, leading to dissatisfaction among the warmest advocates of the cause of labor. It appeals to members to instruct delegates to the general assembly meeting at Minneapolis to organize under the old constitution, and submit the following amendments:

Here follow seven clauses defining the powers of the executive board, expenses and other changes governing the local assemblies, and claiming that anything short of these modifications of the constitution means centralization of power, and is contrary to the ends of the order, which was constituted to combat such tendencies.

A Novel Suit.

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 1.—At Little Falls a novel law suit has been tried. It is believed to be the first of the kind ever heard in the courts. Minnie Brown worked in Titus, Shread & Company's mills at the time when the Knights of Labor were locked out at Little Falls. She claimed a man named Otto Bates, one of the knights, made an agreement with her that if she would refuse to work he would guarantee her payment of her wages. She was not a member of the order at that time, but afterward joined. On the trial Miss Brown's statement was supported by the evidence of her brother and mother. On the other hand the defense proved by Bates and other knights that the agreement was that her board was to be paid and nothing was said about wages. Miss Brown acknowledges that she had received about $40 for board from the knights. The jury failed to agree and were discharged. The knights regard this as a victory. They believe that the manufacturers instigated Miss Brown to commence the action with the idea that damaging evidence could be secured against members of the order and to create public sentiment against them.

Who Will Pay the Pinkertons?

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 1.—A special from Uniontown, Pa., says: As the Pinkerton men who were during the coke strike are leaving, the question of settling the expense is creating considerable discussion. The bill of expenses will be very large, and a number of the leading citizens and taxpayers are preparing to dispute the claims, saying that the bringing of the men to the coke region was unnecessary; while, on the other hand, the operators say the demand is a just one, and should be met by the county without them individually defraying the expenses thus incurred.

State Senator Matterly, when asked about the matter, replied that the county could in no way be held responsible for any part of the costs following the introduction of the Pinkerton men into the coke region as coal and iron police.

Longshoremen Returned to Work.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—About two hundred of the longshoremen who were out on strike, returned to work this morning at the old rates. The only concession made was the discharge of the colored non-union men employed. The white non-union men were retained. All the strikers will be taken back as soon as vacancies occur.

Rolling Mill Strike.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 1.—The Little rolling mill, the largest industry in East St. Louis, closed down to-day on account of a strike among the stokers. The grievance is that too much work was exacted of one stoker, Joseph Moon.

BASE BALL.

Standing of the Clubs in the American Association and League Race.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 1.—The Reds have struck a winning streak once more and three strait from Brooklyn has given them a wonderful boost toward the second place. The Orioles have wrestled with sad-eyed defeat as many times as they are now only twenty points ahead of the Cincinnati. St. Louis has been increasing its lead all this time and it is not likely the champions will be overtaken. They are now 150 points ahead of Cincinnati, have won ten more games and lost thirteen less. The Reds made a net gain of thirteen points on the Orioles yesterday. The record to date is as follows:

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.
Games Won.	Games Lost.
St. Louis.....	57	21
Baltimore.....	45	30
Cincinnati.....	47	34
Louisville.....	44	36
Athletic.....	36	40
Brooklyn.....	35	39
Metropolitan.....	24	50
Cleveland.....	19	56

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Detroit still maintains the lead in the League race and even a more secure position than it was a week ago. The record to date is as follows:

Games Won.	Games Lost.
Detroit.....	41
Chicago.....	42
Boston.....	39
New York.....	40
Philadelphia.....	37
Washington.....	27

A CORNER IN NEW WHEAT.

Bonanza Mackay Behind a Gigantic Wheat Deal in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—The wheat clique bought about 300,000 tons of this year's crop, and every day sees about 5,000 tons delivered to them by the farmers, for which $200,000 is paid. Double shifts of stevedores are at work on twelve ships which are now loading for Liverpool, and charters have advanced this week from twenty to nearly forty shillings. The small brokers who are short are having a hard time getting orders, and are losing much money, as the price of wheat is steadily advancing. To-day the clique purchased wheat up to 2.12 1/2 per cental. This represents about $1 per cental more than the wheat will bring in Liverpool.

On the entire holding of the wheat clique the loss at present prices cannot be far from $1,000,000. Mackay and the Nevada bank are behind the deal, and there has been no weakening yet. Drestack, another bull leader, was yesterday the sole buyer of wheat at $2.12, and at the close the price was advanced another cent. Of course the small dealers who have shorted the market are getting badly plucked, and it is the money wrunged from these operators that the clique is now paying for the wheat. Good observers of the market declare the clique cannot go on much longer, and that a collapse must come.

Guiteau's Attorney Attempts Suicide.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Charles W. Reed, the well-known lawyer and ex-prosecuting attorney of Cook county, Illinois, who was associated with Lawyer Seville in the defense of Guiteau, the assassin of President Garfield, and has of late figured conspicuously in police circles, having sunk lower and lower, attempted suicide by jumping from the ferryboat Chicago, into the river this morning. Officer Taylor, of the harbor police, rescued him. He jumped from the forward deck and arose to the surface just in time to be struck on the head by one of the Chicago's immense paddle blades. The blow knocked him senseless, and rendered Officer Taylor's work of rescue easier. Reed's head was badly cut in two places, and he was nearly asphyxiated. Reed has lost all his legal practice, and is reduced to great poverty. He was sent to the hospital.

A Photographer's Failure.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 1.—A. C. Brownell, the well-known photographer at 196 West Fifth street, assigned this morning to Milton A. McRae, with liabilities of $30,000 and assets $10,000. The failure is the result of the great Fidelity bank crash, Brownell having been a depositor to the extent of $3,330, besides owning $5,000 first issue of the bank stock and $5,000 second issue of the same stock. His double liability on the stock, combined with the loss of the cash deposit, was too heavy to be borne, and although doing a prosperous business, he was forced to the wall. Brownell is well known as an honest, upright business man, and his failure is a cause for special regret. He has been engaged in photography here for a number of years. Preferences were given as follows: Joseph W. King, $1,000; Charles E. Brownell, $3,000; M. Scholer, $750.

Charged With Robbing Freight Cars.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 1.—Some time ago Benjamin and Aaron Nuss, of Catawissa, brothers, brakeman and conductor respectively on a freight train on the Catawissa division of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, were arrested, charged with robbing freight cars. They were held in $1,000 bail each for trial. Friday Aaron called on Superintendent Swigart, in Philadelphia, and offered $4,000 to settle the case. The offer was promptly refused, and Huss returned to Catawissa, where both brothers were rearrested, their bail having been increased to $5,000 on account of the discovery of further robberies in which they are implicated. They were unable to obtain bondsmen and were lodged in jail.

On a Tour of Inspection.

BUFFALO, Aug. 1.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Thompson and General Superintendent Kimball, of the life-saving service, are in this city inspecting the custom-house and life-saving station. From here they go to Fort Niagara for the purpose of locating a life-saving station in that vicinity. They will then embark in the revenue cutter Perry for Detroit, and will make a tour of lakes Huron and Superior, inspecting the life-saving stations and custom-houses. It is likely some action will be taken towards locating a station at Ashtabula, O., and rebuilding the stations at Big Sandy Creek, Lake Ontario.

Took His Child and Returned.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Mr. Van Hayst, who came to this country from Holland last week in pursuit of his wife, who had fled to this country with Jules Van Doren, sailed for home to-day by the Aurania. His little daughter, who was brought to this country by her mother, and whom the father recovered, returned with him. Mrs. Van Hayst and Van Doren sailed for Rotterdam to-day by the steamer Leerdam. She will make no opposition to the suit for divorce which her husband will institute in the Holland court, nor make any effort to regain possession of her child.

Protecting Their Creditors.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A Times special from Henrietta, Tex., says: Curtis & Atkinson have made chattel mortgages together with one deed of trust for $10,000, to the aggregate amount of $424,000. Thomas F. West has given public notice that he will, as trustee of the Henrietta National bank, sell on the 9th day of August 30,000 head of cattle to secure a note of $30,000; that the sale will be subject to a chattel mortgage for $50,000 in favor of the Western Mortgage Investment company, of Kansas City, Mo.

The Steamer Sain, P. Jones Sunk.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 1.—At 2:45 this morning Mr. John Wheeler, clerk of the steamer Sam. P. Jones, arrived in this city with the intelligence that the steamer had sunk at 9 o'clock last night near West Franklin, Ky., and is a total loss.

Stole Money and Eloped.

OWENSBORO, Aug. 1.—Levi Gorney, a saloon keeper of Central City, has skipped, taking his partner's money and a negro woman named Hannah Davis, by whom he has four children. Gorney left a wife.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE DAILY BULLETIN will be delivered to any part of the city at 6 cents a week, or one year for $3.

THE DAILY BULLETIN to any postoffice in the United States, postage prepaid, at twenty-five cents per month or three dollars per year.

MONDAY EVENING, AUGUST 1, 1887.

This is no time for Democrats to stay away from the polls.

If you are a Democrat it is your duty to vote to-day. Your vote is needed.

The indications are that Buckner will pull through by about 25,000 majority.

The people of Manchester voted in favor of local option the other day by a majority of seventy.

The Prohibition vote is the uncertain quantity in to-day's election. It promises to cut both ways.

If the Democratic majority is cut down to-day, it will be the Prohibition element that will do the work.

The Republicans will get in every vote to-day they can. Democrats should throw off their apathy, and not rely too much on their old-time majorities.

LOUISVILLE was the hottest point in the United States last Friday. This is probably accounted for by the fact that the political fight down there was a four-sided affair.

The race for Representative up in Greenup County to-day is a newspaper fight. C. H. Callon, of the Herald, is the Democratic nominee, and W. J. A. Rardin, of the Gazette, is carrying the Republican banner.

The Democrats of the four States that have held conventions this year—Kentucky, Rhode Island, Ohio and Maryland—have all endorsed Cleveland's administration. And why not? It has been one of the best the country has ever had.

CINCINNATI has succeeded in raising a guarantee fund of over $1,000,000, and her centennial exposition is now assured. The raising of this fund was an enormous task to undertake, but the citizens of the Queen City were equal to the emergency. Such public spirit as they have manifested merits a handsome return.

DURING the campaign which closed Saturday Hon. J. W. Bryan completed a canvass of the whole State. He made sixty-eight speeches in all during the campaign. The Covington correspondent of the Commercial Gazette says: "In the case of Senator Bryan, the personal feeling through the community is such that political lines are to a degree obliterated, and he will without doubt lead his ticket in Kenton County."

MR. EDWARD F. MADDEN, a newspaper writer of Louisville, has been invited by W. S. Thomas, the Philadelphia banker, to accompany him and a syndicate of capitalists through Whitley, Harlan, Bell, and other counties. The object of the trip is to prospect in the above counties for the purpose of investing in coal and mineral lands in Southeastern Kentucky. The wealth is there, and it is at last gaining the attention of capitalists.

Election News.

The election to-day is one of the quietest held here in Maysville for years. A very light vote is being polled. At 11 o'clock the returns in the city showed the following:

FOR GOVERNOR.
Buckner.....	321
Bradley.....	24
Fox.....	11
Cardin.....	2
FOR REPRESENTATIVE.
Gooding.....	310
Wells.....	289

A Prize in the Lottery

of life which is usually unappreciated until it is lost, perhaps never to return, is health. What a priceless boon it is, and how we ought to cherish it, that life may not be a worthless blank to us. Many of the diseases that flesh is heir to, and which make life burdensome, such as consumption (scrofula of the lungs), and other scrofulous and blood diseases, are completely cured by Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" after all other remedies have failed. Dr. Pierce's treatise on consumption mailed for 10c. in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y.

CHRISTOPHER C. ROBBINS, of Millwood, a Mexican war veteran, has been granted a pension.

"All Men Are Liars," said David of old. He was probably prompted to make the above remark after trying some unreliable catarrh remedy. Had he been permitted to live until the present day, and tried Dr. Sage's Remedy, he might have had a better opinion of mankind. We claim that no case of catarrh can withstand the magic effects of this wonderful medicine. One trial of it will convince you of its efficacy. By druggists; 50 cents.

THE BOOM IN TOBACCO.

The Advance in Prices the Greatest Known for Years, and the End Not Yet.

The interest in the tobacco market continues unabated. The boom in the price of the weed has been the most remarkable for years. Country dealers hereabouts have all struck it rich this time and numbers of them have made comfortable fortunes. If the BULLETIN has any regrets, it is that the advance didn't come a little sooner, or the farmers—the growers—didn't hold on a little longer, so that the profits might have been more widely distributed, instead of going into the hands of the few. But then the buyers haven't been making very much off of the weed for several seasons, and the farmers can console themselves with the idea that they will probably reap their share of the profits in the long run, because the prices will undoubtedly keep up for the next year or so.

The following was published on this subject in New York the other day, and will prove of interest here:

"There is such excitement among tobacco dealers and manufacturers at the present time as has not been known for years, and prices for leaf tobacco have increased from 50 to 100 per cent. during July, and the end is not yet. Manufacturers have been sending up their prices in response to the demands made upon them by the controllers of the leaf supply. On plug tobacco alone the Lorillards have advanced their wholesale prices nine cents per pound during the past three weeks. Other manufacturers have kept pace with them, and Western manufacturers who initiated the rivalry of low prices a few years back have not been able to keep out of the present movement. The causes of the increase are complex, but the chief immediate cause is speculative enterprise. Last year the tobacco crop was a good average, but prices were so low that many growers, in disgust, made up their minds to try this year some kind of farming that would pay better. Consequently upon this determination a small crop only was planted. This fact alone would have been cause enough for an advance beyond the prices obtained last season, and on this the manufacturers, as well as farmers and dealers, calculated, but when restriction of the tillage is added, the grave lessening of the product which the long-continued drought in the tobacco region must inevitably entail, it is clear that the supply must bear a relation to the demand that is antagonistic to the consumers' interest. Speculators were not slow to perceive the indications of coming dearth, and they quietly bought in all the leaf tobacco they could get their hands on and held it for a rise. This started at the end of June and it is still going on. In the least sought grades the advance has been some 40 per cent. and in some cases it has touched the doubling point. There is undoubtedly enough tobacco stored from last year's harvest to carry the market through till the next yield, so there would be no heightening of rates but for the certain shortage in the new crop. It is said that the great and rapid rise in prices is solely the work of speculators who are not manufacturers. The latter, it is claimed, could not afford to buy largely beyond immediate requirements, because the alert leaf-marketers would apprehend that they were working on speculative lines, and would promptly put up prices themselves. Mr. Lyall, of Buchanan & Lyall, said: 'Tobacco which sold for nine and ten cents a pound three months ago is now worth from twenty to twenty-five cents a pound. The rise is due to the increased demand, and this is traceable to the fact that the crop planted this year is not more than 50 or sixty per cent. of last year's. Then the drought we have had will reduce the yield to a much lower point than the diminished tillage would represent. The crop this year will certainly be small, but what its amount will be will not be known with certainty until some three weeks hence.'

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shephard, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is, now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free trial bottles of this standard remedy at the drug stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by J. C. Pecor & Co.

GOING DOWN TO JERICHO.

The Rocky Road from Jerusalem—Picturesque Bedouin Guides—Grand View.

The thieves hereabouts, namely the Bedouins, are not all done away with yet. At all events, people going from Jerusalem Dead Seawards must be provided with guards, who, on the principle that it takes a thief to catch a thief, are also Bedouins. Picturesque looking fellows, too, they are, in their long, two foot wide, striped in black and white ulster cloaks, and their silken, tasseled head-gear, with a long, brass bound gun slung across the back, a big revolver in the belt, and a curved Damascus sword swinging jauntily from one side. Picturesque indeed your Bedouin is, as he moves along in never so stately fashion on his Arabian horse, vouchsafing once in a while to turn his bronzed, black whiskered face around to see how you are getting on. But of thieves we saw none, though the shepherds along the road glared meaningly once in a while. Indeed, news has just come of an intrepid American proceeding alone to the Jordan having an ugly encounter.

We read the expression "down to Jericho," down indeed, from an altitude of 2,500 feet above to a depth of 1,000 feet below. You pass around Olivet by the supposed triumphal path of our Lord, and then in half an hour's experience with the meanest of stone heaps, find yourself at Bethany, where of course they are ready to show you a hut called "the house of Martha and Mary," while the tomb of Lazarus is as assuredly not lacking—in a country where the slightest shreds of not only Scripture but tradition are made of account in the manufacture of holy (f) places. Then follows a siege of saddle work, one could hardly call it riding, of going down into the valleys by the stoniest of roads, and of ascending of hills by the same sort. It is little consolation to bruised bones that it is the brook Cherith at the valley of Achor that you see. This up and down process, if well kept up for six hours, brings one to a grand view, namely that of this wide plain through which flows the Jordan to the Dead Sea lying large and blue seemingly at our feet, and bordered on the opposite shore by the steep Nebo mountains, indistinct toward the south from the mist which the remarkable evaporation of water causes to form over the surface of the lake. Over there, among those highlands, is Moab, not a village, or even a dwelling, in sight to break its vast monotony. Behind that desolate shore and land of Moab is Arabia, and when one thinks of the immense stretch of desert to where water in the shape of the Persian gulf can break upon the sight, this lack of life seems not an unfitting introduction.

Slowly the caravan descends into the plain. "Where is Jericho?" says one, hardly thinking that the handful of huts just beyond the orange trees can be the modern representative of the proud old city whose walls behaved in such an unnatural way when the intrepid Joshua marched his forces against them, and the priests blew their trumpets. Still, a man whom God delegated to control the sun and moon might well be left to take care of a city. Two hours away lies the Dead Sea—the city of Elijah's later life, the city where Saul came to be made king, where David returned from exile, the then "city of palms," now not a single one left—approaching the water as near as possible, but no palm city could be built on shores which were blighted with salt.—E. J. Baldwin's Letter in Cleveland Leader.

The Class' Circulating Letter.

An ingenious scheme was devised by a class of young ladies who were graduated from a prominent New York seminary a few years ago. One of them, now residing in this city, thus explains it: "There were nine of us in the class, and we were all promising to write to each other continually, but in our hearts we knew that such a correspondence could never be kept up. Finally one of the girls suggested a circulating letter, and the idea pleased us all. At the expiration of one month from the time we parted the first girl wrote a letter telling what she had been doing and everything about herself which would be likely to interest the others. This letter was sent to the second girl, who, after reading it, wrote her own letter and sent the two to the third. The third, fourth, fifth, and all the others in turn added their letters until the ninth on the list sent it back to the first. Then the circuit was complete and we had the circulating letter fairly under way. Now, of course, the envelope always contains nine letters, and each girl, when it comes to her, takes out her own letter, writes a new one telling what she has been doing in the meantime, and starts it on its travels again. You can have no idea how interesting it is to receive the letter and how anxiously we all await its arrival when our turn comes. We have kept it up for nearly four years, and each time the letter comes round the pleasure of reading what all the girls have to say seems to increase. One of the girls is in Washington, another in Chicago, another in Southern California, another in Paris, and one, when I last heard of her, was in Egypt. Some of them are married."—San Francisco Alta.

News was received here last Saturday of the death of George B. Metcalfe the day before. The dispatch, however, failed to state at what place the death occurred. The remains were interred at Augusta yesterday. The deceased was a native of Mayslick precinct, but has been traveling salesman for a Cincinnati house for several years.

MRS. ARTHUR McDONALD died this morning at 1 o'clock, at her home on East Front street, after a protracted illness. She was seventy-one years of age, and was one of Maysville's oldest citizens. The funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's Church, after which the remains will be interred at Washington.

The new base ball park in Chester will be opened to-morrow afternoon, the attraction being a game between the Georgetown, of Georgetown, O., and the Maysvilles, of this city. The home team is composed of Maysville's best players. The boys have gone to considerable expense to fit up the new grounds, and lovers of the sport should turn out and help make the initial game a success.

The remains of Charles T. Power, whose death occurred last Thursday, at Hot Springs, arrived here this morning. The funeral will take place to-morrow evening at 6 o'clock from the residence of his uncle, Mr. N. Cooper, of Front street. Services by Rev. D. A. Beardsley. No funeral cards will be issued. Friends of the family are invited. Interment at the Maysville Cemetery.

TROUBLOUS TIMES.

Troops Again Ordered to Morehead to Protect the Court and Maintain Peace and Order.

Is the War in Rowan Never to End?

Judge Cole and Commonwealth's Attorney Salles left on the noon train to-day for Morehead. The regular August term of the Rowan Circuit Court convenes at that place to-morrow morning, and these two officials will be on hand to enter upon the discharge of their respective duties as Judge and prosecutor. If reports are true, the condition of affairs in Rowan County is as unpromising as ever to lovers of law and order, and just as disgraceful to the State now as at any time in the past. To the good people of Kentucky this has long been a serious matter, and the question is, is there no way of putting a stop to this lawlessness. Is there no means by which this lawless element can be got at and forever crushed out? Are troops to be called out to preserve order at every term of court? If so, better repeal the act establishing the county, and let the various counties out of which it was originally carved, resume control within their former boundaries. Indeed this seems to be the only solution, and the quickest solution of the question. One crowd up there is about as deep in the mire as the other is in the mud.

It was stated in last Saturday's EVENING BULLETIN that the Governor had ordered a detachment of State troops to proceed to Morehead to aid in maintaining order during the sitting of the court. The call for troops had been refused up to last Saturday, but after a consultation with Judge Cole and Captain McKee the Governor changed his mind and ordered the detachment. The detail will consist of two companies of thirty members each, accompanied by a section of ten men with a Gatling gun, all in command of Captain Lewis W. McKee, of Lawrenceburg. Captain McKee will report to Judge Cole with his command to-day, with instructions to protect the court and maintain peace and order only, and not to perform special police and bailiff duty, as the soldiers have hitherto been required to do. Provisions will be forwarded for at least twelve days—the term of the court.

Had troops not been ordered to Morehead troublous times might have been expected. Persons well posted in Rowan County affairs are certain there would have been a collision between the two factions. A fight begun and there is no telling where it all would have ended. Undoubtedly the conflict would have been a bloody one. A special from Owingsville Saturday confirms this belief. It says: "Reports of warlike preparations are rife. One report says that the woods of Rowan around Morehead are thick with prowling bands of armed men. One lady, who was out a short distance from the town gathering berries Friday, ran upon a squad of twenty men and another of fifteen men and twenty horses, saddled and picketed. A gang of six, with the notorious Green Mannin, late Marshal of Morehead, who had the warrant for the Logan boys who were murdered, and who miraculously escaped with his life when Tolliver was killed, passed through Owingsville Thursday night.

"Other rumors, more or less reliable, are in circulation. One party in Rowan County writing to another near that place said that he had gathered together there 150 men. A report, considered reliable, is to the effect that $2,500 have been invested in Winchester rifles."

Colonel Z. T. Young's two sons are to answer the charge of murder at the present term, and we are told that on the Governor's deciding some days ago not to send any troops to Morehead, Colonel Young told him in plain words that he didn't intend that his sons should go to Rowan to be shot down—something he was convinced would take place—and if the State didn't protect them he would. Coupled with his information is the report that Colonel Young had armed about one hundred of his friends with Winchester rifles, and had intended taking them along as a guard for himself and boys. We can not say how much truth there is in this report.

The peaceable citizens of Morehead were certainly expecting lively times, and had commenced leaving last Saturday.

In view of all this, the news from Rowan will be anxiously awaited for the next few days. It is to be hoped that it will be of a peaceful character.

DAULTON BROS'. NEW STABLE.

A Handsome Improvement Over the Burned Building, and one of the Finest Stables in the State.

A very noticeable thing about Maysville is that when any building is destroyed by fire here it is generally replaced by another that is always a handsome improvement over the one burned. At least such has been the case for the past fifteen or twenty years. There are towns in Kentucky where this does not hold true, and it certainly speaks well of Maysville's continued improvement and steady growth.

When Daulton Bros'. livery and sale stable, on Second street near Wall, was burned to the ground a few months ago, few people had any idea that it would be replaced in so short a time by such a handsome improvement as is now to be seen on the site of the burned building. The "Phoenix Livery and Sale Stable,"—that is the name their place will be known by hereafter—is about completed. It is now occupied, and the finishing touches will be given in a day or so. We think we are safe in saying that no city in the State can present a finer and more complete building of the kind.

The main building has a frontage of forty-four feet on the south side of Second street, and extends back a distance of one hundred and sixty-five feet. It is two stories high the full length. The front is a handsome one of pressed brick with freestone trimmings and galvanized iron cornice. The walls are all brick, and are all built with a view of affording as great a protection from fire as possible. Fronting the main entrance is a drive affording an easy ascent for horses and vehicles in reaching the second story.

On the ground floor of this building there are ninety-six stalls, and on the second floor are fifty more which can be used in cases of emergency. The buggies, carriages and other vehicles belonging to the firm are also kept on the second floor. The office is found at the left as you enter, and is a large and airy room. The white walls are ornamented with pictures of Iroquois, Ten Broeck, Maud S, Longfellow, Foxall and other famous horses. Immediately in the rear of the office are store rooms for harness, &c. A flight of stairs leads from these rooms to a bed-room on the second floor.

To the right of the main entrance is found a ladies' waiting-room, furnished with handsome brussels carpet, and fitted up with bureau, mirror, divans, a sofa-lounge, washstand and all the conveniences required to make such a room complete. The walls of this room are also ornamented with pictures. It has two entrances—one from the street and another from the stable.

Adjoining the main building on the east is an addition constructed on the same substantial order, fronting twenty-three feet and seven inches on Second street and extending back the full length of the lot—one hundred and sixty-five feet. On the first floor of this addition are twenty-five stalls. Immediately over these stalls, as far removed from the main stable as possible and separated from it by an eighteen-inch brick wall, is a mow for hay and other feed of a combustible nature. On the ground floor of this addition is also found the "Boulevard"—a drive some fifteen or twenty feet wide and the full length of the building. The firm are extensive dealers in horses, and this drive is to be used for exhibiting animals to prospective buyers.

All in all, the improvement is one any city might pride itself in possessing.

Struck With a Gas-Pipe.

A difficulty occurred Saturday evening last between 6 and 7 o'clock at King & Fitzgerald's camp of railroad hands in the West End. John Hounihan, one of the bosses, said something to a boy who works about the stables, when a negro, known by the name of "Charley" interfered and struck Hounihan on the head. The weapon used was a piece of gas-pipe, and the blow was a severe one. Dr. Adamson was called in and dressed the wound. It was rumored about town for awhile that Hounihan's skull was fractured, and that his injuries would prove fatal, but, as is usually the case, the matter was greatly exaggerated. He was able to walk about yesterday, and, it is thought, will be all right in a few days. "Charley," the negro who struck the blow, was a newcomer, and had been working here but a short time. He fled after the trouble, and is making himself scarce hereabouts.

Natural Gas.

Another vein of gas was struck at the well in the East End last Saturday at a depth of 1,050 feet. There are eight or nine hundred feet of water in the well, but the gas forces its way through this and will burn for a few minutes after being lighted. The last sand or rock penetrated by the drill is pronounced by the contractors to be the same found in the Pennsylvania gas and oil wells, and the prospect for a paying vein is considered favorable. The company has notified the contractors to cease off the flow of water and proceed with the drilling.

Big Sale of Shorthorn Cattle.

Mr. Basil D. Owens, of "Crab Orchard Farm" near Washington, has closed one of the biggest sales of Shorthorn cattle ever made in this county. The sale includes a heard of twenty-eight head, the price paid amounting to $3,750. Mr. J. T. Long, of Lane, Kansas, is the purchaser. Mr. Owens has a heard of twenty-five fine Shorthorns left.

Big Sale of Barbed Wire by O. & B.

One of the biggest sales of barbed wire ever made in Maysville or in this section of the State was closed the other day by Messrs. Owens & Barkley, of this city. It consisted, all told, of about 135,000 pounds of wire and staples. It was bought by Mr. Huntington for the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad Company, and will be used in fencing the line of the new road now being constructed.

ACROSS THE WIDE OCEAN.

THE SHAH OF PERSIA TO VISIT EUROPE AGAIN.

This Time it is Believed He Intends to Study the Various Industries of the Continent—How He Will be Received—A Liberal Victory—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The news that the Shah of Persia is contemplating another visit to Europe has sent a chill of horror down the spines of the royal and imperial residents of the various continental capitals, and recalled with vivid clearness their former experience with that slovenly monarch. Visions of palaces turned into pigstyes rise up before them, and the prospect of another visitation of nassred-deen, with the almost absolute certainty of a second time witnessing his unbridled indulgence in his swinish propensities, turns them fairly sick with disgust.

It is just possible that the shah's manners have improved since he availed himself of the opportunity of abusing European hospitality a few years ago, but the chances are they haven't. That the comments of the European press upon his disgusting behavior at that time reached Teheran there is no doubt, but that there was a man in the Persian capital foolishly enough to impart the gist of the journalist's strictures upon his majesty's conduct to his master there is all manner of doubt, and the probabilities are that the shah is ignorant to this day that to befall the house of one's host isn't the proper way to requite his hospitality.

Not that nassred-deen is an ignorant man; he isn't. On the contrary he is an educated man, and possesses a sufficient degree of shrewdness to prevent the hordes of French, English and American capitalists, and adventurers as well, from seizing upon the resources of Persia and converting them into sources of revenue to themselves, but yet he isn't shrewd enough to avail himself of the many opportunities of the enriching his country which abound almost within gunshot of his palace. However, it isn't the nature of a Persian to seek for opportunities of enrichment through industrial channels, so there is nobody to find fault with the lack of the development of the country's resources. Indolence being a national trait in Persia, it is strange therefore, to read the announcement that the shah's projected tour of Europe is for the purpose of visiting the continental industrial centers, and the possibility has been aroused by the repeated opportunities of foreigners for grants, franchises, privileges, etc., to the realization that the Persian can maintain factories, construct railways and till the soil after the most approved fashion when he has learned how, as well as the Christian capitalist and the unchristian-like speculator.

If this be the case, and he is coming to Europe to seriously study the various industries of the continent instead of throwing champagne bottles through plate glass windows, soiling Turkish carpets and other porting himself like a hog out for a holiday, he will be everywhere welcomed and treated with consideration due to a monarch who desires to improve himself, his country and his people. If, however, he is coming to Europe merely for pleasure it would afford him to repeat his former exploits, it is safe to say that means will be found to convey to his august majesty the information that his departure is more desirable than his company.

Liberal Victory.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Liberals have scored another victory. In the parliamentary election which took place yesterday in the Forest of Dean division of Gloucester, Mr. Samuelson, Gladstonian, received 4,280 votes against 2,736 cast for Mr. Wyndham, Conservative. This seat was won in the last election by a Gladstonian, but his vote was only 3,882. Thus a gain of 404 is shown for the Liberals.

Ferry Will Not Fight.

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Friends of E. Jules Ferry declare that he will not accept Gen. Boulanger's challenge to fight a duel in consideration of the fact that he holds that in his remarks at Epinal he did not exceed the right which one politician has to criticize another.

PREACHING FOR LIFE.

Mormons Escape Lynching and Convert Their Would-Be Hangmen.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—A dispatch to the Herald from Augusta, Ga., says: Three Mormons in the county, of whom so much has been written of late, have achieved the greatest victory of the period. They have converted the entire band of Ku-Klux. For some weeks past there has been a movement on foot to lynch these Mormons, and the killing was to take place last night. The reporter was on hand at 9 o'clock, when the Ku-Klux band, consisting of about twenty muscular farmers, masked and armed with shotguns, muskets, pistols and clubs, met in a deserted spot a dozen miles from Augusta.

The party marched to the house where the Mormons were stopping, surrounded it quickly and quietly. A man named Anderson came out in night clothes and was followed by the Mormons. Anderson warned the Ku-Klux not to approach a step nearer his house. Spencer, the leader of the Mormons, then said that they were only carrying out the will of God, who had sent them, and that the newspaper stories about their preaching were without foundation, and that they only asked to be heard before anything was done with them. He followed this with an earnest pleading. The talk was so effectual that the party sneaked off to their homes, leaving the Mormons unharmed. Some of the party have preached on the outskirts of the city for the past two nights and last night a mob of determined men went in search of them, intending either to send them from the state at once or lynch them, but the Mormons had notice and left.

Army of the Cumberland.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 1.—The Regular Brigade, Fourteenth Army Corps, Army of the Cumberland, will hold their reunion at the Columbus barracks on Wednesday, August 31. A full attendance is requested. A resolution will be introduced at the reunion for an excursion to the battlefields some time in November. It is believed that a low rate of fare can be obtained if a sufficient number express a desire to make the trip.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—The doors of the Columbia bank, at No. 433 Chestnut street, whose checks were protested by the Farmers and Mechanics' bank because of a lack of funds, are closed to-day and it is stated that the bank officials will make an assignment in favor of depositors.

The B. & O. Deal.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 1.—Hambleton & Co., Mr. Garrett's confidential bank, issue a semi-official statement of the late B. & O. deal, in which they say there never was any possibility of Mr. Garrett parting with the telegraph property to Mr. Gould. The story of a combination of telegraphers to purchase the property is also denied. Mr. Garrett is described as having the best of the Wall street financiers, as he holds $1,800,000 Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton stock and $300,000 in cash.

A Popular Excursion.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 1.—The weather for the past month has been extremely sultry, and our citizens have taken every opportunity offered to visit the seashore or some cooler clime. The railroads have run many cheap excursions to various points, but there are evidently many left who intend taking their vacation in August. The $5 round trip excursion to Niagara Falls on the 3d over the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton road promises to be one of the largest that has left this season.

Tornado in Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 1.—Meager particulars have been received of a disastrous tornado that passed over the town of David City. One man was killed, and over half the buildings in the town demolished, including the Union Pacific and Burlington & Missouri depots, a large brick schoolhouse, the Methodist and Congregational churches, several stores and many dwelling houses. The damage is estimated at $200,000.

The Red River Valley Railroad.

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 1.—The provincial government has issued a proclamation that the Red River Valley railroad is a public work and comes under the public works act of 1885. Special powers are conferred by this act upon the public works department, including the right of expropriation, and local authorities declare that the proclamation will bar any injunction by the dominion government. It is stated that the local government has ordered the sheriff not to serve any injunctions. This action will intensify the friction between the Manitoba and dominion authorities.

Stopped by the Police.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—A prize fight took place in Trenton on Thursday night, in a barn near the city limits. The stake was for $2,000, the men being Farrell, of Philadelphia, and Wilson, of Trenton. The Philadelphia man gained with every round. Before the fight ended, however, the police raided the place. No arrests were made.

Writ of Error for Barclay Peake.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Aug. 1.—The writ of error asked for by counsel for Barclay Peake, the condemned murderer of Katie Anderson, was allowed yesterday. This removes Peake's case to the supreme court at its November term.

Sporting Notes.

Matlock Bros. have been ruled off the track at Chicago, for making no effort to win with a horse entered.

The Sunday base ball ordinance has passed in Cleveland, and hereafter Sunday ball will be a feature in the Forest City.

In the fourth race at Chicago yesterday, Wanderoo was first, Ira E. Bird second; fifth race, Barney Lee first, Glen Hall second.

At Brighton Beach race, Jockey Mechan had his leg badly hurt by a fall of his horse, Red Buck. The horse was killed.

A professional regatta has been arranged to take place on Seneca lake, N. Y., August 24 and 25. Teemer, Hamm, Courtney and Bubar are entered.

Beatin and Kinslow, the battery of the Allentown, Pa., team, which Cincinnati was to have, has signed with the Detroit by instruction of League President Young.

BASE BALL.—Cincinnati 8, Brooklyn 6; Cleveland 3, Mets 4; St. Louis 12, Baltimore 9; Athletic 10, Louisville 7; Detroit 8, New York 5; Chicago 11, Boston 5; Washington 23, Indianapolis 6; Philadelphia 8, Pittsburgh 2, fourteen innings; Mansfield 10, Zanesville 4; Lexington 10, Georgetown 1; Wheeling 20, Akron 5.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Topics of the Times Given in a terse and spicy manner.

Mose A. Shaw, New York lumberman, has failed. Preferences $115,000.

Forty-one deaths and 178 cases is the yellow fever record at Kay West.

Augustus Depretis, president of the Italian council, and a leading statesman of Italy, is dead.

Jo Sing, an Americanized Chinaman and a preacher of New York, married a white girl of Brooklyn.

Frank Chamberlain, for fifteen years a fireman on the New York Central railroad, was crushed to death.

James C. Flynn, a well known contractor of St. Louis, shot and killed Patrick Smith, a teamster, who assaulted him with a pick.

Behind a heater in a postal car at New York were found torn envelopes containing $6,000 in checks. How they got there is a mystery.

It was 110 degrees in the shade at Nebraska City and 102 at Kansas City Friday. There has been no rain for weeks in Nebraska.

Mother Superior M. B. Lynch, of the Ursuline convent, Columbia, S. C., is dead. The reverend mother became a nun in Cincinnati forty-five years ago.

The elevator in Brennan's tannery, St. Louis, fell with eight persons. Alex. Farran, treasurer of the company, and Annie Moray, a visitor, was killed.

One of the twelve hoodlums being tried all together at Chicago, has broken his pledge and pleaded guilty, creating consternation, and a general "squel" is probable.

Amos Geigley and his family of seven, Reading, Pa., are in a probably dying condition from drinking water from a poisoned well. A vindictive neighbor "fixed" the well.

George Griffiths, Amsterdam, N. Y., was fatally bitten by a dog. The dog chased a hen under the house and Griffiths followed, when the animal fastened his teeth in his throat.

The mountain lake of Tezococo, near the City of Mexico, threatens an inundation. Two centuries ago a flood from this lake caused $4,000,000 loss to the capital of Mexico.

A contract has been made between the United States navy department and the Hotchkiss Ordnance company for the establishment of a branch manufactory for Hotchkiss ordnance in this country.
